Oh, The Places We'll Go

The Senior Class of 2024 dedicates the yearbook to...

Gregory Mott

1997

2024

2023

For 31 years Mr. Mott has filled our brains with the knowledge of history. His fun sayings and out of the blue facts brightened not just students' days, but their futures as well. His extensive knowledge of history helped connect the past to today's issues and events. We will especially remember his mock trials and field trips. We will miss you and hope you have fun biking around the world with your new hip!

- Senior Class of 2024

(The yearbook cover was designed by Senior Isaac Parker.)

Remembering Mr. Curtis

Students and staff at PrHS will never forget Social Studies Teacher Mr. Curtis. Mr. Curtis was known for his kind holiday traditions, and creative teaching. Most of all, he will be missed for his great sense of humor and hysterica pranks.

One prank students will never forget is the Flood Drill of 2021. Mr Curtis came over the loudspeaker telling ever to get off the floor and pull their pant legs up so the flood wouldn't get them. Students then stood on desks with pant legs pulled up, some holding umbrellas, until Mr. Curtis came back over the loudspeaker saying, "April Fool

"He was definitely a jokester. When I first came, he decorated my room like Tom Brady. He put a cat and baby n maker in my room," Mrs. Weinberg says, recalling how long it took her to find the sound. Another time, Mrs. Wei swore she saw a UFO, then came in the next day to find fifty small aliens and a huge green stuffed alien, courtesy Curtis.

The students also recall many pranks Mr. Curtis did, but a favorite is when he told classes he would bring them a but he had another idea. "He pulled out a brownie pan and it didn't have real brownies in them. Instead, in the pa there were brown paper letter E's," one 8th grader recalls.

Mr. Curtis was not only humorous toward students, he even made Principal McLemore laugh. "When I was here f three months, he started giving me chips for outlasting other principals," Ms. McLemore says.

Holidays are important to many, but Mr. Curtis enjoyed them more than others. "For our birthdays he would play minion song when we walked in," Freshman Julie Flanders says. He also would give candy out for Valentine's Day Halloween. He shared his love for Christmas, mentioning his family had seven Christmas trees in their home and some of the photos. In addition, he had many electronic clocks to countdown to all the school breaks.

Mr. Curtis's smile was contagious. He helped many students look forward to school. "He always tried to interact students in positive ways, and he enjoyed what he did," says one student. Whether it was cool gadgets in his roo interactive games, showing funny videos of presidents, or showing students pictures of his cat, he knew how to m day fun.

Although he is gone, Mr. Curtis, and all the fun we had in room 131, will live on in our hearts and minds.

Service learning with Ms. McCuen

Service Learning and Literature is a course with hands-on learning opportunities. This ye were spent both inside in the regular classroom reading and writing, and outside physic engaging in lessons. In-person outdoor participation is integral to the class, and many adve were had; students went canoeing, mountain biking, skiing, hiking, and learned fire-buil techniques. In service, students volunteered on trails at Pine Hill Park and helped with sit for Habitat for Humanity in Rutland. In the classroom, students read fiction and non-fiction the outdoors, including modern essays, classic short stories and larger texts like Into the Jon Krakauer. Students definitely learned the physical strength and effort it takes to kee park's trails in good shape and ready for the public!

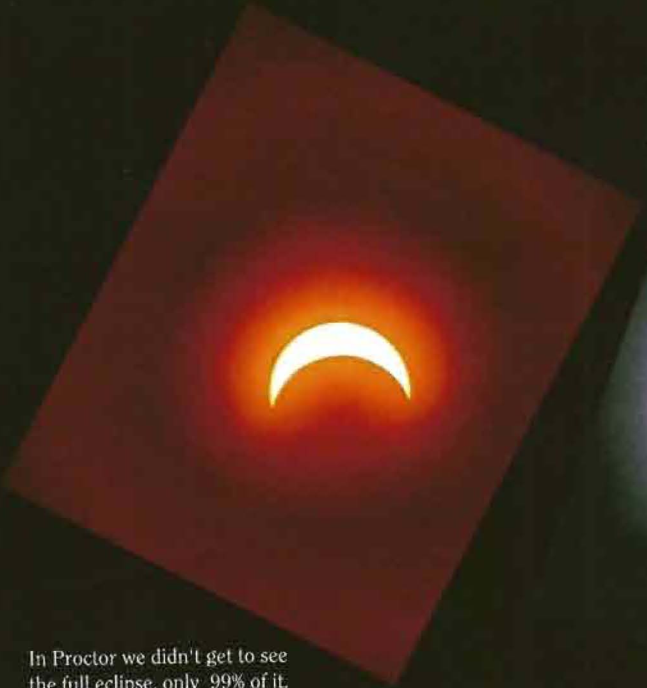
Oh, The Eclipse We Experienced!!

On April 8th, 2024 a sol eclipse occurred and left many people looking towards the sky in awe.



In Proctor we didn't get to see the full eclipse, only 99% of it. Some students left early to go see the full version.

Olivia Grace Gianni

OLIVIA GRACE GIANNI - Our Baby Bird:
You are blessed with determination, intelligence, and persistence. The care and compassion that you dedicate to everyone around you speaks volumes. Not only are you kind, thoughtful, and genuine; but you are thankful. Stay humble…true happiness comes from love and laughter; not money. Be comfortable and live within your means. Help others when you can as it will provide you with a lifetime of happiness. Everything in your life is a reflection of a choice that you have made. If you want a different result, make a different choice. Most importantly, when the weight of adulthood falls on your shoulders, always remember that there is "home" filled with hugs, love, fuzzy blankets, coffee, and our support.We love you, we believe in you, and we are so incredibly proud of you. Love, Mom & Dave

Olivia, we are so proud of your achievements and look forward to what the future holds for you. We love you! Love, Meme & Pop

Congratulations to the best big sister ever. We love you so much! Thank you for being you!

Love,
Clara & Delia

Cameron Cannucci

Dear Cameron,

We have always been told the years go by so fast. I can't believe we are here and you're graduating. Graduation is the first step of the next chapter in your life. You have accomplished so much in your high school years; Dad and I couldn't be prouder. Excelling in the Welding trade, Volunteer FireFighter for Proctor and getting your class A CDL license, you work hard at everything that you do. You will do amazing things and we can't wait to see what your future holds. We love you, to the moon and back.
- Love, Mom and Dad

Cadence Goodwin

Cadence, you did it! There are no words that can express how proud I am of you. For the longest time it was just you and I on this incredible journey. I have truly enjoyed watching and cheering you on in every game, whether basketball, soccer or softball. Every concert and theatre production you were part of was such a pleasure to watch; you shine in everything you do. Never let anyone take that shine away from you. I can't wait to see the next crazy, fun adventures you go on. Reach for stars baby girl, you can accomplish anything you set your mind to. I'm so proud of the beautiful, sweet, smart and sassy young woman you have become. I love you to the moon and back sweet girl - Love always, Mama
